The hall was arranged and decorated with taste. The stage had quite a theatrical aspect. Over and behind it hung the banner of the Republic, and on either side the dressing rooms were screened by the national colors. The supporting pillars in front of the platform were wreathed with evergreen and made gay with miniature flars. Suspended over the front part of the stage was a piscard tastefully edged and estooned with maple leaves, on which the word "Welcome," stood out in silver and evergreen lettering. The chandeliers were dee decked out with flags, and wherever the hall presented a point on which patriotiem or the sense of the beautiful could hang their own evidence, there was some tasteful and appropriate adorument.

The exercises commenced at half-past seven o'clock and lasted two hours. There was so much variety, and the perform-P-00 ance was conducted with so much taste spirit and ability, that no weariness was felt. This cannot always be said of public felt. The essay by Miss H. Browster, was NATIONAL BANK gracefully written and full of rich sentinent. But it was somewhat too long, we fancied, for such an occasion, and was read so low that the house did not get the full benefit of it. It was on the whole a very neat and praiseworthy effort.

Mr. A. B. Dutcher delivered a well-writion and interesting oration, which was well received by the sudience.

The declamation by Master C. A. Wilson was pronounced with thrilling effect. It evinced great care. He entered into the spirit of the piece, and whether in point of voice or gesture, acquitted himself admirably. His declamation was followed by a stirring performance by the band. And without suffering a large pecuniary loss: here it should be stated that one of the many fine features of the exhibition, was the discoursing of most excellent music by still further reduction, therefore, the fine band of the 104th Ohio regiment, which generously volunteered its services, and lent spirit and charm to the occasion.

"The Eong of the Spartan Mother" ment to the present ordinance as will limit ment to the present ordinance as will limit was recited with excellent taste by the rates of farcupon all the street railroads Mins A. Browster. Her rendering of it would have done credit to one much

It was declaimed for the most part with just appreciation and great power, but we thought we detected a trace of mannerism in the ceneral style, an imitation of certain points peculiar to Mr. Murdock, which we do not think profitable to adopt. Mr. Angier has an excellent voice and more than ordinary elecutionary and dramatic ability. Misses Warden and Brewster sang with

The treatment it received was most effective, and the corps showed themseves a very respectable amateur company. If they should set up a permanent "side show" here, we don't know whether munager Ellsler would like it. COLLISION AND LOSS OF A VESSEL.-The Detroit Tribune of Monday says that between three and four o'clock on Saturday morning, a collision took place off the Claybanks, Lake Erie, between the bark Republic, bound up, in ballast, and the brie Canopus, bound down, with a cargo of grain, which resulted in the sinking of the latter vessel in about twenty minutes thereafter, in seven fathoms of water. The damages sustained by the bark was the loss of her jib-boom, bowsprit and head goar, with some slight bruises to her bow. The brig had 16,500 bushels of wheat on board, and was bound for Buffalo. She was 386 tons burthen, and came out new in 1855. Her owners, we believe, are Munn & Scott, of Chicago. We have no essential change to note to-day in the local money market. There was perhaps less demand for currency from the business community, a result following the singustion in trade in sident to the decline in merchandles Reat, which has completely fixtioned out commercial circles here. The rapply of both currency and Exchange continues close, and the latter raiss firm at jur buying and M premium selling.

Gold raist with rather m re steadiness to day and without decid d change from yesterday, close ing this afternoon at 14154. There is comparatively little speculative movement in the marnet at present, and but little export demand, but the cusns demand is active and large, and upon this the price is now chirfly maintained. With regard the future premium, extensive calculations are bi-ing made upon the expected shipments of coston, wa'ch is again assuming the dimon ions of a king exchange. An influential banking and exchange expressed the opinion that during the next eight months the towest estimated outcon shipments of a willian balos would and $ 49,000,000 to our experis If this opinion is a rrest, the price of gold, cutter and billf of exchange must decline considerably.

The import entries of the past week were to the amount of $\frac{9}{2}, 27, 27, and the exports of Demestic Produce to $2,455,9.6.
